

2/1/87

Madame:

Our recent visit to London was invaluable both for the official discussions we had and for the opportunity to renew our acquaintance with the people of Great Britain.

It was a great honor for me to be invited to lunch with you at Buckingham Palace. This gesture of hospitality, echoed by your subjects, contributed a great deal to the warm and pleasant memories I have of my brief visit to your country.

Respectfully,

Her Majesty the Queen
Buckingham Palace
London, England